Sri Madam,

FAHRIR (Transparency, Accountability & Human Rights initiative for revolution) is a Bareilly/Lucknow based Social Organization working at grass-root level by taking up & solving issues related to strengthening transparency & accountability in public life and protection of Human Rights in India.

We are now writing to express our grave concern over incidents of misbehavior with RTI users at the hands of Information Commissioners in various information commissions of India. ARTI users is a Human Rights Defenders' HRDs, the all the cases of violations of human rights of RTI users in the premises of Info-commissions, the information Commissioners are the Perpetrators. The Paris Principles are also not followed in all matters relating to the CIC & SICs in the country when they are actually Human Rights Institutions [HRIs] also and need to be guided by the Paris Principles.

We are shocked by recent arrest of RTI activist Siva Elango in Tamil Nadu. Activists across the country have their experiences of inhumane behavior by info-commissioners. UPSIC has long been harass RTI applicants and we have no hesitation to say that the info-commissioners, who were perceived as the custodian of RTI Act have now started strangling the RTI Act. Like many other info-commissions, UPSIC too has neglected the basic right of activists to sit during a hearing. Previously IC Arvind Singh Bisht went Senior Citizen RTI activist Ashok Kumar Goyal to jail and very recently same IC misbehaved with another Senior Citizen RTI activist Mr. Mahendra Agarwal. Activists in Uttar Pradesh are now scared to appear in appeal proceedings in commissions as they may lodge cases against them.

We feel that today the only jobs these commissions are performing are to reject RTI applications and demoralize RTI applicants by harassing them as the commissions allow government officials to sit during the hearings, but they insist RTI applicants to stand till the proceedings ends to demoralize them. The commissions are going easy on public information officers (PIOs) who delay and deny information. Though the commissions should impose a penalty of up to Rs 25,000 on a PIO for failing to furnish information within 30 days and for deliberately providing incorrect, incomplete and misleading information but they are seldom doing it. No words can be strong enough to deprecate the practice of making the parties to the proceedings stand like beggars, especially when In Namit Sharma Case, the Apex Court has ruled that Information Commissions are NOT judicial or quasi-judicial bodies. There is lack of understanding of RTI Act by Info-commissions. Though Sec 18 (3) gives Info-commissioners the status equal to a District Judge who could exercise powers under Code of Civil Procedure 1908 [Order XVI] [Summoning & Attendance of Witnesses] but info-commissioners have only power of a District Judge but they are not a "Judge". So they have to exercise their authority / power through
